

Net too old yet

SILVER surfers are taking over the internet – with almost 11 million over-60s logging on every day.

The British cyber wrinklies are regular users of email, online shopping and social networking sites.

A poll of 3500 people over the age of 60 for alljoinon.com revealed they surf the web for at least two hours every day.

And they spend an average of £48.78 a month on online shopping.
